Bloomington Bobcats

The Bloomington Bobcats consists of boys and girls in the central Indiana area. Our success year after year to put together a team largely depends upon word of mouth within the homeschool community. To encourage getting the word out, Bloomington Bobcats provides registration credits for families that invite players who commit to play for the team. Below are specifics of the policy:

1. Bloomington Bobcats will give a $50 credit on the registration for each new recruit that is brought into the organization.
2. The credit is earned when a new player registers (including the name or names of the families that recruited them on a specific place on the registration form), and that new player has paid in full.
3. If two families are listed, each family earns a $25 split of the credit.
4. If the new family is not timely in its registration, the credit is not issued until all team fees are paid, which, in those cases, results in a refund to the recruiting family (since that family still must pay their fees in a timely manner).
